Kenyan Drake converted a 4th & 2 on the opening drive and later busted a tackle for an 8-yard TD run to put Aurora up early. Matt Ryan was picked off by Ronald Darby, setting up a Corn King FG then TJ Watt forced a fumble on the next Aurora series, setting up a 21-yard TD pass to Mike Evans. Aurora ended the 1st half in front 14-10 after Drake's second TD run capped an 85-yard drive. Cowtown, trailing 14-13 in the 3rd, made a push to the Aurora 5, but came away empty after back-to-back sacks and a missed 31-yard FG attempt. Aurora added 2 more FGs and held off a late rally to win.

Durham's Richard Sherman picked off Baker Mayfield in the first play of the game and the Lizards took advantage of the short field to get on the scoreboard with a 5-yard TD pass to Cooper Kupp. From there, the Lizards turned to Nick Chubb on the ground and through the air to build a 20-3 halftime lead on a pair of Ed Pineiro FGs and a 35-yard lob from Josh Allen to Chubb in the end zone. The Durham defence clamped down on the Irish the entire game, limiting them to just 6 1st downs and 152 total yards, losing the shutout on a 50-yard Blankenship FG in the 2nd.

The Glads' tied it at 7 in the 1st quarter on a 78-yard punt return for a TD by Diontae Johnson then added a Tyler Bass FG to take a 10-7 lead after Dwayne Haskins was stuffed for a loss on 4th & 1 at his 34. Haskins was picked off to start the 3rd setting up a Georgia FG, but then the Swordfish struck quickly with a TD run by Chase Edmunds and a Daryl Worley fumble return for a TD to make it 21-13 Sebastian. Georgia persevered, adding 2 FGs and using the 2nd pick of the day by Damontae Kazee to set up the first of 2 Tua Tagovailoa TD passes to Jarvis Landry to finish off the upset.

 Kyler Murray scrambled for a 12-yard TD to cap a 75-yard opening drive and Neville Hewitt picked off Joe Burrow at the 43 and returned it to the Blue Eagles' 26 to set up a TD on a 3-yard check down to Zack Moss to build a 14-6 Erieau halftime lead. The Eagles' offence seized control in the 2nd half, with Burrow and Chris Carson teaming up for a 7-yard TD pass to add to 3 Mason Crosby FGs for a 18-14 Eagles' lead. But Murray did it all on a final time-consuming drive, running for 6 on a 4th & 2 and hitting 8 of his last 9 passes, including the game-winner to Henry Ruggs III with 0:46 left.

Budapest RB, David Johnson rushed for 96 yards and snared 9 catches for 69 yards and a go-ahead TD in the 4th quarter to earn MVP. The Stars controlled the balance of play, but Aaron Rodgers' first pick of the year and a lost fumble by Mark Walton led to 10 York points and a 13-10 halftime lead for the visitors. Field goals knotted the score at 16 before Johnson's nifty move on a screen put Budapest in front 23-16. Tom Brady roared back to tie it on a 34-yard bomb to Mike Williams, but Rodgers executed the two-minute drill to get Jason Myers in position for the winning FG as time expired.

An opening drive TD pass to DeAndre Hopkins and a Ronnie Harrison interception of Philip Rivers, that set up a 6-yard TD run by Carlos Hyde, had Brooklin off to a quick start. Rivers went 5 of 5 on the Spartans' next series, finding Sterling Shepard open near the sideline for a 12-yard TD. That was the last highlight of the day for Pickering. Randy Bullock added 3 field goals before the half to put the Hawks up 23-7. Isaiah Simmons picked-off Rivers on the 1st series of the 2nd half and Derek Carr made him pay with his 2nd TD pass. The Hawks held the Spartans down and ran out the clock from there.

NEW YORK – Professor McChad's mid-term grades drew volleys of criticism and scant appreciation from my readers...as usual. It makes me wonder why I even bother to impart my wisdom to the teeming masses of empty-headed fan boys out there. I get it; they're fans, and the more diehard ones spend most of their waking hours reliving and dissecting every aspect of their team's performance from week-to-week. They devote far more time to the task than most journalists do, except for the team's beat writers, of course. But again, they're fans...many of them have no lives and they tend to see things through the emotional lens that fans do. They can turn bitter and pessimistic as easily as they can become overly excited and optimistic, depending on what just happened. Half are incapable of seeing their team objectively in relation to all of the other teams. That is where a fan of the sport, like me, needs to step in, to dispel illusions and provide insights that the emotionally blinded fan cannot see. Alas...most fans don't want to see their team any other way than the way they see it and therefore resist the light.

It has been a particularly tough year so far for fans of the Wrecking Balls. While most fans tend to take issue with my negative grades for being too negative, several New Jersey fans attacked me for being too generous with the D-minus grade I gave their team. One, who identified himself (I assume it is a "him" since no "her" would use the 'c' word used in the original text) as Doctor Balls, wrote: "D-f^&ing minus?? That f&#ing dumb c*%& of an owner and his dumb a$$ coach deserve a good hard 'F' up the a$$. Then they'll know how the fans feel every week!"

On the opposite end of the wheel of football fortune, one Cobb County fan, who identified herself as Georgia Peach (I assume it is a "her" since no "him" would name himself "peach"), was dismayed that I had not singled out Ryan Tannehill as the reason for the Coyotes' perfect start: "I can't believe you didn't mention Ryan by name in your grade, Spats. He is having the best season ever and without him this team wouldn't be where it is. The team gets a B-plus and Ryan gets an A-plus-plus-plus-plus-line".

Of course, fans of several front-running teams are not happy that I singled out the Coyotes for the top grade. Virden fans, excited beyond decency by the performance of Patrick Mahomes, are taking aim at any opinion that remotely suggests the Violators are not the best team in the league. One fan, who identified itself as Island of Violation (the full message contains ambiguous sexual references that defy gender classification) wrote: "You contradict yourself, Spats. You mention if not for COVID-19 the Violators would be perfect. So, why not an A-plus then? The Coyotes are a flash in the pan. Let them have their fun now. If we see them in the playoffs we will seize them by the tail and have our way with them. You will look like a fool."

I am not sure how Virden having its way with Cobb County in the post-season will make me look like a fool, but when fans feel their team has been slighted, the slighter had better beware.

Spoiled Aurora fans are, in the main, incensed at my B-minus grade for the Mustangs. One fan, who identified himself as Horsetail Harry (why do people not sign their actual names to anything anymore??) summed up the general vibe: "You know teams are gunning for the champs every week, Spats! That has to factor in. B-minus is a slap in the face to the best team in league history! Spats, we're not done yet! This will be our greatest season because nobody believed we could do it and you'll look like an idiot!"

Interestingly, very few North Stars fans weighed in with commentary. Perhaps, they were satisfied with the A-grade, as they should be. When the team was based in Markham, no fan group, apart from the Cubs, hated me more or missed an opportunity to criticize. Since the move to Budapest, the 'Old Fans' have left me alone and focused their voodoo on Darrin Jones for taking their team away from them. I assume one reason for the drop in feedback since the move to Budapest is due to the language barrier. I did receive one message from a fan in Budapest named Zoltán, who I believe was being appreciative when he wrote: "Excellent thought of respect your writing of ideas deep seeing of Stars. Respect, bro!"

It goes without saying that, whether you are a Georgia fan who thinks I've underrated the Gladiators' effort, a Buffalo fan who thinks I should be grading Lamar Jackson instead of the rest of the team, a Triumph fan who thinks I am applying a doublestandard, or a Charleswood fan who thinks I just hate the Patriots and always have (which isn't true), I always welcome your feedback. It reinforces in my mind the need to continue spreading my critical analysis, to shine a light onto the darkness.

REPRIEVE

It has been a rocky year so far for Chino coach, Rob Nazar. First there was the strong and, so far, unresolved challenge by the Assassins to claim the meanest helmet and blackest uniform in the division. Then there was his knee-jerk reaction to that challenge in the creation of a new skull & crossbones logo and a retreat to a black & red colour scheme, one traditionally associated with the Devil or just evil in general. This new look is not going over well with traditionalists in the Chino fan base and newcomers – like the Budapest scoreboard operator – are just plain confused by it as they struggle to understand the association between a pirate symbol and a convict. I suppose some convicts might be convicts because at one time they were pirates. But pirates, technically speaking, are not convicts if they are able to engage in piracy. You get where I am going with this, I hope, because if I were to start going into the disturbing relationship of a death symbol to being a convict, we could be here most of the day.

Mostly, however, it has been a rocky year because the Convicts have failed to live up to the fans and local media's expectations on the playing field. Going into the second half of the season at 3-4-1, would be an envious situation for a team like the Wrecking Balls – one that is spectacularly failing expectations – but it is unacceptable for Chino fans, especially when they see the hated Cubs struggling to live up their own hype and ripe for the picking.

Targets of the fans' ire have included an inconsistent Dak Prescott, a step-slower Larry Fitzgerald, a barely visible Marvin Jones Jr and totally invisible Greg Olsen, the defence in general, and even MVP candidate Christian McCaffery, whose 12 touchdowns heading into the game led the league and who's total 1,175 yards from scrimmage was just 42 yards off the pace set by another MVP candidate, Leonard Fournette. Of course, the main target of the fans and media is the beleaguered coach and GM, Rob Nazar; who, on top everything else, has recently taken to moving around in public with a not-so-discreet Hells Angels bodyguard at his side, after receiving threats from Latino gangs for relegating linebacker, Kiko Alonso to a back-up role and for failing to pick up Rakeem Nunez-Roches in the waiver draft.

So, the Week Nine match-up against the Bombers seemed like one of those looming turning points for Nazar's Convicts. With the Cubs apparently shaking off their early season funk, another loss would really put them behind the 8-ball. Also, Chino had yet to beat a top tier team – the Pilots' occasional spectacular success notwithstanding – and, except for segments of that win over the Pilots, had not looked convincing in victory.

Bombers' coach and GM Ken Main was in a similar, though less physically precarious, position as his Week Nine rival. The Belgian sports media tend to be laissez faire when it comes to American style football and the fans still don't know enough about the sport and the league as a whole to know how to criticize their team in any meaningful way. However, national media in North America had not missed an opportunity to highlight the shortcomings of the 5-3 Bombers – a team many had expected to win the East Division.

Criticism had coalesced around the failure of the defence to stop anybody and the inability of quarterback Jared Goff to keep up. To be fair, Goff is a different type of quarterback from the one around whom Main's system was built, Marcus Mariota. Not less talented, just different – a pocket-style passer with pocket mobility who is best when he gets into in a rhythm, but who turns the ball over with alarming frequency. While Leonard Fournette is receiving deserved accolades for keeping the Bombers' record in the black, deep critics see this over-reliance on the running back as one symptom of Main's inability to bring the wide receivers into the game plan and to get the most out of the potentially super-potent tight end duo of Travis Kelce and Darren Waller. Those critics also suggested that over-playing Fournette had led to his injury in Week Eight that would keep him out in Week Nine.

Main acknowledges the criticism respectfully, but in his typical unruffled manner is able to keep his team's focus on moving forward while expressing genuine confidence in his players' ability to produce results. Still, the upcoming game against the Convicts brought with it a sense of urgency. With Cobb County looking invincible, and Lamar Jackson starting to figure things out in Buffalo, the Bombers could fall into third place and outside of the playoff circle if they were to lose. And with their first half MVP out of the line-up, losing was a distinct possibility if the unreliable Chino defence was able to hold its ground.

The Convict defence still surrendered its customary 400-plus yards of offence, but tenacity on third down and 3 takeaways turned it into a winning effort all the same. The failure of the Bombers to come away with points after Bud Dupree had strip-sacked Dak Prescott on the game's opening drive undoubtedly bolstered the unit's confidence. It also breathed new life into Prescott and a Chino offence that faced the condemnation of fans for letting Bruxelles get the early jump, but was now off the hook.

After Matt Prater shanked the 46-yard field goal attempt that would have salvaged the post-turnover drive, Christian McCaffery and Mark Ingram II combined for 42 yards on the ground and Prescott took care of the rest with a 22-yard fly to Hayden Hurst in the corner of the end zone for the opening touchdown. It was the kind of "kill shot" deep pass that had been exclusive to Michael Gallup so far. It was only Hurst's third catch of the season and only the fifth catch by a tight end.

On Chino's next drive, the veteran Larry Fitzgerald showed that, while he may have lost a step, he hadn't yet lost his power and strength. He snared a short slant from Prescott and weaved and darted his way 73 yards to the end zone for a TD, dodging and shaking off tackles along the way. If the Hurst touchdown had created excitement on the Chino sideline, the Fitz throwback score electrified it. Even after Goff struck back for the Bombers with a 32-yard TD strike to Marquez Valdes-Scantling, the Convicts' bench remained in high spirits, imbued with a rare confidence.

The offence kept moving, setting up Chase McLaughlin for two short field goals and keeping the defence rested. Trailing 20-7, with time ticking away in the 2nd quarter, Goff began to press and the result was a Donte Jackson interception of an attempted check down to Chris Godwin at the Bruxelles' 27-yard line. A personal foul penalty on Dupree and a pass interference penalty on Darius Slay two of 13 penalties called on the Bombers this day, helped make short work of the short field, with McCaffery cashing in two plays later from 4 yards out to make it 27-7 for Chino.

With no dependable running game to support him, it was left to Goff to try and hurl his way to a comeback. He tried but was thwarted at every turn. The fading superstar, Melvin Ingram III reminded the football world of his existence with a furious 2nd half, notching a sack, two forced fumbles and an interception to keep Goff and the Bombers at bay and put a defensive stamp on a 37-23 final in favour of the Convicts.

It was the convincing win Nazar, the media and the fans had been looking for. Yes, it came against a Bombers team that was missing its topperforming offensive player, but the lack of Fournette did not change the quality of the Chino touchdowns nor the fact that the Chino wide receivers had as many catches as running backs in a game where they never had to play from behind.

"I was very impressed with the play of Dak," Rob Nazar said to reporters after the game. "He has taken a lot of criticism for our slow start. Most of it has been undeserved in my opinion. And the defence played great when we needed to make stops. I can't say enough about the defence and Melvin there at the end. But we have a tough game coming up against the Wrecking Balls next week, so we're going to watch the film of this game tomorrow and get back at getting ready for New Jersey!"

At the mention of "tough game" against the Wrecking Balls the Zoom Room crackled with simultaneous laughter coming from a smattering of unmuted microphones, temporarily freezing the system. Those present physically in the room struggled to hide grins and smirks as they attempted to take the comment seriously. Nazar's delivery had been straight-faced, which made it even funnier. But there is no doubt that, should the Convicts revert to an earlier season form next week and manage to lose against the bumbling but still talented Wrecking Balls, the reprieve he earned himself and his team with this win in Week Nine will be rescinded and the heat on his seat turned back up a notch.

ON ANY GIVEN SUNDAY

Just when it seemed safe to call games "locks" again, two Week Nine locks were stunningly blown apart.

The "on any given Sunday" cliché has reclaimed its age-old stature after the Seattle Pilots shook up the power structure of the football world with an astonishing 23-14 victory on the road over previously undefeated Cobb County. While that was happening, 100 miles east, the Gladiators throttled the Swordfish 35-24 in an unheard-of burst of offence and a clutch display of defence, conspicuously aided by another series of, at best questionable, and at worst non-sensical decisions by Swordfish coach, Russ Lemmon. But more on that in a bit....

The authentic, unblemished downing of a true Goliath by a true David happened in Marietta, Georgia. Eight weeks into the season, the Coyotes had not only been perfect, they had been Dominant (notice the capital 'D'). So Dominant that it prompted Yours Truly to prop them up, a mere one week ago today, as a perfect season candidate. The EFL has had two of those so far and an additional perfect regular season in its previous 13 years of existence – making it 23% likely that in any given year some team will run the table, about the same chance as Jameis Winston has of completing a long pass without getting intercepted or sacked.

The Coyotes opened true to form, shearing through the Pilots' defence on the opening drive and crowning the effort with a textbook medium slant from Ryan Tannehill to Julio Jones, that the speedy behemoth took to the house for a 37-yard pass play. Two series later another Coyote prodigy, Raheem Mostert broke around the edge for a 27-yard run, setting up another textbook medium slant to Jones, this time good for a 26-yard score. They made it look so damn easy! Two minutes into the 2nd quarter, it was 14-3 Cobb County. All was going according to plan for GM/Coach Eron Osman and he began to turn his attention to his tablet, where he had stored an archive of game film of the Cubs, the Coyotes Week Ten opponent.

No mortal can tell if this blithe indifference of the Coyote coach to what was happening on the field in some way offended the Football Gods (yes, they do exist!) or, if it did, whether they intervened at any point in the contest. But a review of the tape shows that from that point forward, the Coyotes looked like an average EFL team – perhaps even a touch below average.

The shift in fortunes began very subtly, with the Pilots simply possessing the ball for longer periods of time and being rewarded for their toil with a pair of field goals. And then there was Mostert getting stuffed for a loss on 3rd & 1 near mid-field, followed later by Tannehill coming up one foot short of the first down on a 3rd & 10 scramble at his own 22-yard line. Near misses. The Coyotes punted away both times, surely confident that there was no need to gamble in either situation, as it was only a matter of time before they crushed Seattle under their cleats. These were sensible decisions at the time. The Wild Dogs led 14-6 at halftime and would make a few

Lamar Jackson cocks back before rifling a pass to his favourite target, Robert Woods in Week Nine action against Las Vegas. Jackson finished the afternoon with 354 yards passing and 135 yards rushing to lead the Derailers to a 24-7 win. After a shaky start, Jackson and the Derailers are putting it all together for what they hope will be a run to the final in January.

After forcing a Seattle punt to open the third quarter, the Coyotes took over at their own 14 with a long, but navigable road ahead of them. However, on the second play from scrimmage, as Mostert came out of his turn, KJ Wright spiked the ball out of his arms, to be recovered by Marshon Lattimore at the Cobb County 20. It was one of those out of the blue plays that catches everybody totally off guard. The shock alone was enough to reset the attitude of both teams. When Sam Darnold checked down to Demarcus Robinson on 3^{rd} & goal for an 8-yard touchdown five plays later, it became official; the tables had turned.

There was no panic on the Coyote sideline. But there was enough concern to cause Eron Osman to lift his head from the Cubs game film study and take stock of the situation. He sent in a few plays to his offensive coordinator with instructions to rotate Tannehill and Teddy Bridgewater at quarterback. Why the rotation is anyone's guess. After Tannehill got the Coyotes close to mid-field, Bridgewater took over and moved the team across mid-field only to stall at the Pilot 43-yard line. Facing a 4th & 2 there, Osman decided to go for it, but the pass from Bridgewater to Jones was low and the Pilots took over on downs with great field position.

Clearly in no hurry to give the ball back to the Coyotes, the Pilots ground out an astonishingly long drive, taking 14 plays and 7 minutes to cover a mere 53 yards. When they were finally stopped at the Cobb County 9, Coach Mitch Gangwish sent in Josh Lambo to kick the 27-yard field goal. He made it, giving Seattle its first lead of the game, 16-14.

Still no panic from the Coyote sideline, but it was obviously no longer a time to experiment with a platoon system at QB. Tannehill returned to the game and drove his team to their own 48-yard line, where they came up against 4^{th} & 1. Osman did not hesitate to go for it and called in one of the team's safer plays – a short slant to Jones. But Tannehill's throw was too high and sailed incomplete. The Pilots again took over on downs and proceeded to go Old School with Marlon Mack. The hard-running Mack charged repeatedly into the tiring Coyote line, ripping off runs long and small, including a 1-yard bulldozer on 4^{th} & inches with the entire Cobb County defence gunning for him. When he finally needed a rest, rookie Cam Akers came in and finished the drive off in style with a 20-yard scamper to the 5, from where he took it in on the next play to give Seattle a 23-14 lead with just 2:51 remaining.

It was now panic time on the Coyote sideline. They needed two scores and had precious little time to do it. A red-faced Eron Osman started barking orders through his mask. What he said was unknown, but the way he was saying it underlined the need for haste. The Coyotes drove quickly up the field, preserving their timeouts. When they reached the Pilots' 24-yard line, they elected to try the field goal on 2nd & 4, and play to get the ball back with time to score a touchdown. It was a shrewd plan, more impressive when one considers it was made under duress. But the strategy went all for naught. Brandon McManus hooked the 42-yard attempt wide left and the Pilots, unable to contain their joy, took over at their 32. They almost scored again when Mack broke through the thoroughly demoralized Coyote defence for a 51-yrd run. But as the Coyotes raised the white flag, Mitch Gangwish relented and had Darnold take a knee to run out the clock on the most stunning upset of the 2020 season.

...and now back to Georgia Stadium, where the much-maligned Gladiators experienced a revival against the team that everybody in a slump now wants to face, the Swordfish. This game should have gone the other way. The Glads started in their usual manner, giving up an early touchdown and failing to move the ball on offence. A 78-yard punt return for a touchdown by Diontae Johnson tied the score at 7, but nobody took the big play to be significant – just more window dressing on another soon-to-be loss.

That's when the Swordfish lent a helping hand to their opponent. With Dwayne Haskins under center as part of a bizarre rotation with star Drew Brees, Swordfish coach Russ Lemmon elected to go for it on 4^{th} & 1 at his team's own 34-yard line. That's right – his team's own 34! It was the definitive high-risk, low reward scenario that separates Lemmon's fourth down gambles from those of mostly every other coach in the league. In this instance, the gamble backfired. Haskins was mauled or a loss by the entire Georgia defence. The Georgia offence, still anemic-looking at that point, were content with a Tyler Bass field goal to take a modest 10-7 lead.

The Haskins experiment continued, but with a different twist. The second-year pivot started the next drive and stuck with it, moving the ball well from the Sebastian 23 to the Georgia red zone. But there, he was suddenly intercepted by safety Damontae Kazee, who returned it 58 yards to set up another field goal for the still-feeble-looking Glads' offence, and a 13-7 lead.

Brees came back into the game and drove the Fish 85 yards in 12 plays, taking a 14-13 lead on a 6-yard draw by Chase Edmunds. Undeterred, the Fish successfully converted a 4th & 1 one their side of mid-field to keep the drive alive. No doubt apologists for Russ Lemmon (and there are a few) will cite this and the other successful 4th down gamble on their first scoring drive as proof that liberalism on 4th down actually works. As we will see, it sometimes works and sometimes doesn't. When it doesn't, it's a killer.

The next series saw the Glads give back the Diontae Johnson punt return for a touchdown with a Johnson fumble that Daryl Worley picked up and ran back 56 yards for a touchdown and a 21-13 Sebastian lead. Although Georgia managed to eke out a 51-yard Bass field goal at the end of the first half, the momentum was trending toward the Swordfish.

To the Gladiators' credit, the turnaround in their team's fortunes did not start with another Swordfish blunder. After Bass field goal no.4 finished off the opening drive of the second half, Damontae Kazee snared his second interception of the day, this time off the real-deal, Brees, to thwart a Sebastian foray into the red zone. Tua Tagovailoa came to life on the ensuing possession, completing 6 of 8 for 71 yards and a 11-yard touchdown pass to Jarvis Landry to give the Glads a 26-21 lead.

The Fish drove back for a field goal to pull within 2 points, but the Glads widened their lead with another inspired drive led by their rookie QB, who found Landry from 14 yards out for their second touchdown connection of the game. As fate would have it, Bass, who had been rock solid kicking field goals, missed the extra point attempt, keeping the Georgia lead at 8 points, 32-24.

With 5:36 left, down by one score, there was still plenty of time left for the explosive offence of the Swordfish to resume its course to victory. Certainly, it was not yet time to panic. But panic they did – or maybe it was just Russ being Russ. Facing 4th & 6 at their own 24, with 4:26 left, the Swordfish rolled the dice yet again. The pass from Brees was true, but Jason Witten dropped the ball, handing possession over to the Glads in immediate field goal range. After a couple of double-digit gainers set back by a couple of holding calls, Bass hit his 5th field goal of the afternoon, from 36 yards out, to give the Glads a two-score lead, 35-24, with 2:19 left.

The disaster from the Swordfish point of view became complete when Brees was hit by Vic Beasley Jr on the first play of their last series and had to leave the game in severe pain. Haskins came in to finish, with predictable results. The Glads held on for their second win of the season – one in which they did their part and took what the opponent was giving them, which in this case was a lot.

This loss is certainly the low point of the season for Sebastian. Not only did they lose to a team with a ticket to the 'Trevor Sweepstakes,' but they lost their starting quarterback for at least four games. Dreams of a division title are fading fast and thoughts of a wildcard berth are looking like wishful thinking. There is, of course, only one person to blame for this situation and that person is their increasingly erratic coach, who wore a papier mache Swordfish hat for the entire game and looked to be having loads of fun.

"It's my fourth down indicator," Lemmon explained after the game. "If I point the nose toward the other team's goal, we go for it. If I point the nose toward our goal, we punt. It saves a lot of time wasted debating if it's a good idea or not. Guys just look to the sideline and know immediately what to do. I wish I'd thought of it earlier, actually."

AROUND THE EFL – ERUDITE OBSERVATIONS AND LEARNING POINTS

If the remainder of the second half of the season plays out like Week Nine did, we are in for a rollicking ride.

³ At Tillman Field in Cowtown, the Mustangs rode Kenyan Drake's 2 TDs and 180 yards from scrimmage to a hard-fought 20-13 win. The Corn Kings kept the Matt Ryan-to-Davante Adams connection in check, but that success came at the expense of giving ground to the explosive Aurora running back, who turned in rare workhorse performance with 31 touches. This was a different kind of win for the Mustangs, in that their defence ended up having the final word on victory. With Aurora in front 14-13, Cowtown cobbled together a nice drive to the Mustangs' 5-yard line, where they faced 1st & goal. But back-to-back sacks by Marcus Davenport and Shaq Thompson pushed Cowtown back to the 20, then, after a Todd Gurley 7-yard run got them closer, Joey Slye hooked the 31-yard field goal that would have given them the lead. The Mustangs' defence smothered everything Jimmy Garoppolo tried to do from that point on.

³ The Violators made an emphatic statement in Week Nine, staking their claim to the Central Division with a striking 45-38 triumph over the Crusaders at True North Field in Winnipeg. This was the kind of game that keeps defensive coordinators up at night. Virden scored touchdowns on six of their first seven possessions and did not punt all night. Patrick Mahomes, who threw for 385 yards and 5 TD passes, was the largest force in the building that night. But he also tossed an ill-advised check down in the direction of TJ Hockenson that Peg City's Chauncey Gardner-Johnson picked off to account for the one series that Virden came up empty. Although the final score suggests a close game, it was in fact a madcap scramble by the Crusaders to keep up once the Violators got the early jump on them. The outcome was never seriously in doubt once it became clear that the Pegs' defence had no answer for the Virden machine, apart from crossing its fingers that Mahomes would keep throwing "ill-advised" check downs. If there was any doubt before as to which team would prevail in the Central, it is erased now. The Violators can begin to focus on the no.1 seed.

³⁵ At Jurassic Park in Durham, the Thunder Lizards took care of business by clamping down on the Irish, 23-3 to put them in sole possession of first place in the North Division. The fact that they did so in unmemorable fashion is a challenge to me to find a highlight. There was one; a 35-yard "check down," a long, arcing lob from Josh Allen to Nick Chubb in the end zone to close the 1st half.

³⁵ And, finally the Spartans reverted to early season form in a 30-7 loss to Brooklin at an empty Thermopylae Stadium in Pickering. The humbling loss came as a reminder that, despite its run of three wins in the last four games and the empty praises of Aristedes Kalogiannis, the Spartans are still a pretty bad team and one of the few capable of making the Hawks' defence look good.

Jimmy's WEEK TEN PICKS

CHINO @ NEW JERSEY (line – CONVICTS by 2)

INJURIES: Chino – Matt Skura (OUT), Kawann Short (IR); New Jersey – DJ Chark (QUESTIONABLE), Terry McLaurin (DOUBTFUL), Matthew Stafford (OUT).

The nightmare season continues for New Jersey as they game plan for the possibility that their top two wide receivers will be missing in action this week. While it is true that, apart from DJ Chark's Week Two breakout, neither he nor Terry McLaurin have been able to alter the pathetic bottom line; without them the Wrecking Balls' string of highly competitive losses could be at risk. At this point, does it really matter who is missing? The only satisfaction left for the Wrecking Balls is wrecking somebody else's season. It might as well be the Convicts, a team coming off a morale-bosting win over Bruxelles last week and looking to gain ground on their western rival with an "easy win" here. While many are now touting the Convicts as a team on the upswing, I still sense a chemical imbalance on the roster that makes them prone to sudden breakdowns on both sides of the ball. This one will not be as easy as it looks. PICK: NEW JERSEY

BUFFALO @ SEATTLE (line - DERAILERS by 1)

INJURIES: Buffalo – Solomon Kindley (QUESTSIONABLE), Quinton Dunbar (OUT), Jonathan Abram (IR); Seattle – Kareem Hunt (OUT), Bobby Massie (OUT), Foster Moreau (OUT), Devin White (OUT), Connor Williams (OUT).

This is, in my opinion, one of the most interesting games on the Week Ten slate. The Pilots are currently out of the playoffs, but have established a kind of playoff pedigree with their two big wins over Virden and Cobb County. The Derailers are currently in the playoffs, but continue to be viewed by many as a one-trick Lamar Jackson pony ready to implode at any moment. I tend to favour the latter when it comes to the Derailers, but the fact remains that until somebody finds a way to stop Lamar, the only thing standing between him and a long playoff run is Lamar himself. The Pilots have a mix of refined and scrappy talent on the defensive side of the ball, but even Khalil Mack will find keeping up with the Buffalo quarterback a challenge. I see slowing Jackson down as a major victory and the only hope for the Seattle offence to keep pace. The Pilots surprised everybody last week, but did it take too much out of them? PICK: SEATTLE

LAS VEGAS @ BRUXELLES (line - BOMBERS by 6)

INJURIES: Las Vegas – Dalvin Cook (OUT), Adoree' Jackson (OUT); Bruxelles – Frank Clark (PROBABLE), Kerryon Johnson (OUT).

Following last week's loss to Chino, that highlighted how groundless this offence is without Leonard Fournette, the Bombers must pick it up the rest of the way if they plan on playing in the post-season. Las Vegas is an opponent they should be able to beat, but the Assassins remain one of those middling, fringe contenders that boast some impressive pieces, but have not been able to bring things together under a trio of quarterbacks, who are presently competing to be less bad than each other instead of the go-to option for Coach Holguin. Even a little offence would have gone a long way in their loss to Buffalo last week, as the defence had Lamar Jackson contained until the second half when they simply ran out of gas. But offence will likely be in even shorter supply here, as Dalvin Cook is listed as 'OUT.' The Assassins have lost five in a row and are now staring at a half-dozen. PICK: BRUXELLES

IOWA CITY @ COBB COUNTY (line – COYOTES by 9)

INJURIES: Iowa City – Will Dissly (OUT), Reshad Jones (OUT); Cobb County – Jabaal Sheard (OUT).

It will be interesting to see how the once invincible-looking Coyotes bounce back from their shocking loss to the Pilots. Every team has a down point in the season, but it was like somebody suddenly pulled the plug on them in the 2nd half of that game. The Cubs are coming off a victory over New Jersey in which they overcame a 3-point deficit and got a timely takeaway to put the game away in the 4th quarter. It was not exactly a convincing win, despite the 10-point spread at the end. Still, the Cubs are building up momentum, with three straight victories since their coach was put on the hot seat. A win over Cobb County would dispel concerns that their recent streak is a flash in the pan. As usual, a Cubs' win will depend on Russell Wilson. He may fall short, but he'll keep it close. PICK: IOWA CITY

PEG CITY @ TWIN CITIES (line - CRUSADERS by 4)

INJURIES: Peg City – None; Twin Cities – Trent Brown (DOUBTFUL), Clyde Edwards-Helaire (DOUBTFUL), Kwon Alexander (OUT), Chris Lindstrom (OUT), Russell Okung (OUT), Antonio Brown (COVID-19).

The league's top offence in yards gained is likely wondering why their team is only in a dog fight for the second wild card position. That is because the league's worst defence in yards surrendered shares the same sideline. The Crusaders have had to contend with three explosive offences in three straight losses heading into this game, which has shaken their defence. If ever they needed to face a team with a moribund offence to regain their mettle, this is the time. The Triumph have one of the more stagnant attacks in the EFL, regardless of quarterback. Mitch Trubisky was the starter in both of their wins, so expect to see him behind center this week. Clyde Edwards-Helaire is listed as 'doubftul,' which will hamper the offence even more. Not sure why this line isn't bigger than it is. PICK: PEG CITY

CHARLESWOOD @ VIRDEN (line - VIOLATORS by 19)

INJURIES: Charleswood – Parris Campbell (OUT), Derwin James (OUT), Devin Funchess (IR), CJ Mosley (IR); Virden – Nasir Adderley (IR), Derrius Guice (IR).

When these rivals met in Week One, the Patriots surprised everybody by not laying down to let the Violators walk all over them. The Violators still walked over them, but there was resistance. Eight weeks later this Pats team is fully cognizant of where they stand in the pecking order – at or near the bottom – and may not resist so fiercely. Being put in their place by a team that is putting everybody in their place is not the end of the world and may not be worth the effort in blood and sweat to challenge the inevitable. This is a pretty disrespectful double-digit line, however, and the Pats' players have shown that they have pride at least, if not much talent. Virden is firing up all its engines and should have no trouble carving up the remnants of this Charleswood defence they pillaged in the off-season. But this seemingly grotesque mis-match does present all the ingredients of a let-down. Could it happen...? PICK: CHARLESWOOD

GEORGIA @ COWTOWN (line - CORN KINGS by 10)

INJURIES: Georgia – MacKensie Alexander (OUT), John Johnson III (OUT), Jimmy Smith (OUT), Andrew Wylie (OUT); Cowtown – Cordy Glenn (OUT), Adam Humphries (OUT).

After stunning Sebastian, the Gladiators went from the favourite to win the 'Trevor Sweepstakes' to just another bottom-rung team trying to decide between an elite cornerback or edge rusher in the upcoming draft. Heck, if Tua keeps playing like he did in the second half of that contest, the Glads won't need Trevor Lawrence. The Corn Kings really struggled to sustain any offence last week against an Aurora defence that produced pressure with their front four, minus JJ Watt. This speaks to a Corn King offensive line that is not up to the task of handling even a mediocre pass rush. Fortunately for Cowtown, the Glads do not have a good pass rush and their weakness in the secondary will not cause many, if any, coverage sacks. Todd Gurley had his best game of the season, but still has not cracked 100 yards in a single game. The generally punchless Cowtown offence won't run away from anybody, especially not a hot Tua. PICK: GEORGIA

DURHAM @ AURORA (line - MUSTANGS by 5)

INJURIES: Durham – Isaiah Johnson (IR); Aurora – Timmy Jernigan (OUT).

The Mustangs found a way to win at Cowtown last week and it was not in their usual way. They will be looking for a repeat of the Kenyan Drake run and Kenyan Drake catch formula to keep the Durham defence on its heels and induce its elite secondary to fall asleep on Davante Adams. The Lizards have logged three straight wins, but they have all been blue collar efforts on both sides of the ball. They haven't scared anybody yet. Nick Chubb will be the key to keeping Matt Ryan off the field and setting up opportunities for Josh Allen through the air. Whether the young QB will exploit those opportunities is the open question every week for Durham fans. The Lizards have been hampered by the referees this year; they remain the most penalized team in the league. The Mustangs, on the other hand, seem to get the benefit of the doubt from the zebras, and they are at home. It would be a shame if the refs decide this one. PICK: DURHAM

ERIEAU @ SEBASTIAN (line - SWORDFISH by 5)

INJURIES: Erieau – Myles Garrett (OUT), Josh Gordon (OUT), Jabrill Peppers (OUT), Joe Staley (IR), Akiem Hicks (IR); Sebastian – Reggie Ragland (QUESTIONABLE), Drew Brees (OUT).

Even prior to Drew Brees' collarbone injury, the Swordfish were becoming a shaky bet every week due to their unorthodox, some might say insane, approach on 4th down. Neither did the seemingly random rotation of Dwayne Haskins and Brees at quarterback inspire confidence. An offence cannot succeed with two quarterbacks competing for time in the same game. That won't be the problem this week. The more serious problem will be Haskins getting all of the snaps behind center. The former 1st round pick in 2017 has not looked the part in limited action. The best that can be said about him is that he has a better QB rating than Jameis Winston. Compare him with

Erieau's prime QB prospect, Kyle Murray and you have a laugher of a mismatch that will keep the Caddies rolling. PICK: ERIEAU

SCARBOROUGH @ EAST ELMHURST (line – BLUE EAGLES by 2)

INJURIES: Scarborough – DeSean Jackson (OUT); East Elmhurst – Taco Charlton (OUT), Tyreek Hill (OUT), Linval Joseph (OUT), Dontari Poe (OUT), CJ Anderson (IR).

The Blue Eagles have dropped three of their last four after taking the league by storm in the first five weeks. The rookie, Joe Burrow is starting to make mistakes, while the defences he has faced over that stretch have been better prepared for him. This has given Chris Carson more room to run, but the run game is not producing as many touchdowns. The Irish went through the motions on offence against the Lizards but their defence put up a respectable fight. They will need a similar effort here to stand any chance of winning. Tyreek Hill, their one impact player on offence is out, leaving Adam Thielen as the only reliable option in the passing game. As for the run game, forget it; it was never there. Expect this game to be less interesting to watch than the weather channel. PICK: SCARBOROUGH

BUDAPEST @ BROOKLIN (line - NORTH STARS by 1)

INJURIES: Budapest – Justin Britt (OUT); Brooklin – Rodney Gunnter (OUT), Pernell McPhee (OUT), Boston Scott (OUT), Stephon Tuitt (OUT), JoeJuan Williams (OUT), DeShon Elliott (IR), Evan Engram (IR).

If the Hawks have designs on a division crown, they need to pull off the season sweep over the North Stars this week to stand a credible chance. It will not be easy. Budapest would be perfect to this point if not for the bizarre Week Five loss to Brooklin. Only one touchdown was scored that day and it made the difference. While nobody expects a repeat of that 22-point joint effort, it is unlikely we will see a shootout. The Hawks have the firepower, but the Stars have the gold standard defence to prevent things from getting out of hand. The Hawks' defence is horribly inefficient overall, but they take the ball away and hold up surprisingly well in the red zone, an area where the Stars' offence has struggled. Expect both teams to leave it all on the field as the Stars avoid the sweep. PICK: BUDAPEST

PICKERING @ YORK (line – EXCALIBURS by 9)

INJURIES: Pickering – Marquise Brown (QUESTIONABLE), Derek Wolfe (QUESTIONABLE), Darqueze Dennard (OUT), Xavien Howard (OUT), Karl Joseph (OUT), Nathan Shepherd (OUT); York – Malcolm Butler (OUT), Dion Jordan (OUT), Darren Sproles (OUT).

The Excaliburs are only one game in front of the Spartans, but they appear to be much greater in competitive stature when one looks at both teams' body of work. Win or lose, the Swords have been in every game except, ironically, for their Week Five loss to these Spartans. Whether due to overconfidence or some type of bio-rhythmic funk, York did not show up to play that week and Philip Rivers did. And while Rivers is coming off a benching in last week's blowout loss to Brooklin, one never knows when the old soldier is going to wake up and fire sniper shots into opposing secondaries. York is clearly the better team, and should win this second contest against their rival. But do they have the chops to cover the spread? The Spartans will not lay down here. Expect this to be close. PICK: PICKERING

FROM THE EFL ARCHIVES – Week Nine of the 2014 EFL season did not contain any definitive moments in the playoff landscape. At best, teams on the fringe like Virden and Iowa City earned temporary reprieves from death sentences while the rich, such as Carthage and Aurora, continued their bids for perfection to each rise to 9-0.

The victim of desperate Virden was one of the top teams in the league, Durham, a team with a bit of everything but hampered by a quarterback issue very reminiscent of what is happening in Sebastian in 2020. The Lizards let a 24-13 lead slip away in the 4th quarter thanks to a Marcus Sherels punt return for a TD and a Nick Foles interception that set up the game-winning TD for a 29-24 Virden victory. Foles had started just his fourth game of the year to that point, having deferred to none other than Drew Brees in the other five. How strange is it that one of the best QBs in EFL history had to share time with Nick Foles and, in 2020, with Dwayne Haskins?

The Cubs scored last in their 40-34 overtime win over the Regulators to stay technically in the race for the crowded West Division. This was a breath-taking game that saw 6 different leads erased before the Cubs removed all doubt with an 80-yard TD drive to start and end the overtime period. The 270yard passing, 97-yard rushing and five touchdown performance by Russell Wilson earned him Offensive Player of the Week honours.

There is not much more to report from Week Nine in 2014. When a game involving Mission Viejo losing 23-21 to powerhouse Pickering gains national attention due to its closeness, you know not much else was going on that day.

Of course, when any team, any where, wins a game by the score of 10-6, attention turns to the defence that made it happen. Kiko Alonso of Chino notched an impressive 12 tackles and 2 sacks in his team's Week Nine victory over York.
